It's not every day that Charlestonians are blessed with the opportunity to feast upon decorated chef Daniel Boulud's delices right here in town. In fact, snagging a reservation at most of his 11 international restaurants (including three-Michelin-star-rated Daniel in NYC) requires patience, luck, or friends in high places—sometimes all three. Yet, for $750 each, 65 ticket-holders were invited to join Boulud and his crew for a five-course extravaganza —Food + Wine With A View—at hostess Terri Henning's plush downtown penthouse last March. Take a peek into this exclusive

BB&T Charleston Wine + Food Festival event.
